

NEED BUT ONE STATE TO MAKE U. S. BONE DRY

Thirty-five of Thirty-six States Ratify Congressional Amendment.

D. C. LEAGUE JUBILANT

Passage of Law Will Mean Creation of Many New Jobs.

Chicago, Jan. 15.—Thirty-five of the thirty-six States necessary have ratified the "bone dry" constitutional amendment today. Four more States were to vote on ratification today and these four were confidently claimed by the dry workers.

No State as yet has voted against the amendment, although two attempts have been made to attach referendum riders to the measure. Distillers, however, through a recently formed organization here, announced they would fight it in every way possible.

"We will surely put the prohibition amendment over tomorrow," said E. C. Dwyer, a legislative superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, last night.

May Have Surplus

It is expected that when the final count of the States is made tonight it will be found that the "dry" States are in the majority, and that no matter what action may be taken in those States where the "wets" have resorted to injunctions by the courts to stay the ratification, the amendment will be ratified and there will be no question as to the will of the people on the question.

The great drive by which the leaders of the temperance movement have brought about the ratification of the amendment in less than thirteen months from the day it was finally voted upon by Congress, is one of the most remarkable features of the success of the campaign. When the amendment was before Congress, the "wets" forced the adoption of a clause which provided that if the requisite number of States did not ratify the amendment within seven years it would be inoperative.

Newspapers New Jobs

It was the hope of the "wets" at that time that they would be able to prevent ratification in a number of States, so that the amendment would fall during the seven years, and then the movement would have to be started all over again.

In less than thirteen months ratification of all but one State has been accomplished.

The amendment was passed by the Senate on August 1, 1917, and passed by the House on December 17 of the same year. It was passed by amendments in the House on December 18, 1917. The vote in the Senate was 65 to 20, and in the House 282 to 128.

The amendment will become effective next year after the ratification is proclaimed. During the intervening period Congress and the several States will be called upon to pass legislation to enforce the amendment and to provide penalties for its violation.

It is probable that a large force of agents under the direction of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue will have to be appointed to enforce the law in each State. It will have to provide machinery for the enforcement of the law in addition to the machinery provided by the Federal Government.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

Although no definite plans have been formed by the temperance leaders for the celebration of the ratification of the amendment, it is probable that the event will be observed in some characteristic manner to reflect the opinion of the people on the question of prohibition in the entire United States. In all probability a date will be selected to have the celebration so that the whole country will unite in honor of the glorious victory.

Commission Declares Former Ruler Convicted by His Own Notes.

Berne, Jan. 15.—A German commission, appointed to determine the former Kaiser's responsibility for the war, has officially recommended that he be brought to trial, according to information received from Berlin today.

The recommendation was announced by Herr Kautsky, who was appointed to direct examination of documents in the archives of the foreign office.

Marginal notes in the Kaiser's own handwriting on the most important papers in the foreign office prove he was one of the principal war makers, Kautsky reported. "It is necessary to bring him before a tribunal."

Locate 1,500 Canadians Hitherto Thought Dead

Ottawa, Ontario, Jan. 15.—Fifteen hundred Canadian soldiers, who were reported as missing and presumably dead, have been located in Germany since the armistice was signed. Many of these soldiers have been missing since the battle of Ypres and have long since been given up as dead.

As the German authorities have never reported them and their mail was never received, it was presumed that these soldiers must have been removed to camps where the German officers were particularly brutal and cruel. The Germans refused to report them, contrary to all international war regulations.

TWO ARRESTS IN U. S. BILLS THEFT

Detectives Solve $15,000 Engraving Bureau Mystery.

Headquarters' detectives yesterday cleared up a secret service case involving the disappearance of $15,000 in unnumbered bills from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

Approximately $10,000 in bills was recovered following the arrest of William Tate, 29, colored, of 1907 Second street northwest, and Floyd Hope, colored, 28, of 1201 I street northwest.

Detective H. R. Beckley, who handled the case for the local police, arrested Tate in a poolroom. Tate was attired in about $2,000 worth of clothes, including a fur-lined overcoat.

Hope was arrested as he was entering the poolroom.

At a hearing before United States Commissioner L. R. Hitt, yesterday, both were held for the grand jury.

Malcolm Boone, colored, a roommate of Tate, also was arrested, and testified that he had passed some of the stolen bills.

The system worked by the men, who had been employees of the bureau for several months, is alleged to have been as follows:

As messengers they would take bundles of counted bill sheets from one room to another. The bills would be counted upon arrival in the second room.

After the second counting, in an unwatchful moment by the man on the desk, when the bundles of long sheets should be stored in some section of the room, the disappearance is thought to have taken place.

Both Tate and Floyd are alleged to have played races with the stolen bills.

No successor to Admiral Jones has been named.

WANT LARGER POLICE FORCE

"Safety First" Association Passes Resolutions Calling Upon Congress to Act.

Heated over the "appalling number of street accidents in Washington," the Safety First Association at a meeting in the Public Library last night unanimously passed strong resolutions calling upon Congress to make necessary appropriations to properly equip the National Capital's police department against needless loss of life.

Thomas F. Peabody, president of the association, offered the two resolutions covering modes of putting a stop to the alarming increase of street accidents.

The present police force, members declared last night, is not large enough for the proper enforcement of traffic laws.

Statistics presented by Mr. Peabody compiled from the District records show that pedestrians killed were as follows: In 1915, 27; in 1916, 23; in 1917, 30; and in 1918, 33. Vehicular killed were, in 1915, 3; in 1916, 9; in 1917, 19; and in 1918, 31. Persons injured in 1915, 109; in 1916, 147; in 1917, 191; and in 1918, 315. The figures show a proportionate increase.

The members also went on record as being in favor of the police department levying the maximum collateral to be deposited at the police stations by all violators of the traffic laws.

A resolution offered by J. Clinton Hlatt, secretary, urges the District Commissioners to place in their next estimate a sum sufficient to enlarge the lighting system in the District and thereby cause fewer accidents.

Government departments which have automobiles will be notified to be more careful in having their drivers observe traffic signs, according to a resolution adopted.

Milton D. Smith was appointed a member of the committee on traffic laws.

BALTIMORE MAY JOIN CAPITAL IN 'WELCOME HOME'

Neighbor City Would Assist in Greeting 110th Field Artillery.

DUAL FETE SUGGESTED

Combined Demonstrations When President Returns Is Urged.

The anticipated return of the 110th Field Artillery, composed mostly of District of Columbia and Baltimore men, may result in Baltimore joining with Washington in the Welcome-Home demonstration to President Wilson and District men scheduled for February 22.

Suggestions submitted yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the executive committee and chairman and vice chairman of the subsidiary committees, called together by Col. Robert N. Harper, chairman of the executive committee, were to this effect:

If the 110th Field Artillery arrives according to a tentative schedule, it is believed Baltimore will ask to share in welcoming her men of that organization in Washington; deeming that the National Capital, the presence of President Wilson and the mammoth welcome to the citizens of Washington have planned would be the most fitting way in which she could honor her representatives in the great world war.

This plan is under advisement and will be considered by a special committee appointed by Col. Harper to investigate the situation.

The 110th Field Artillery originally was composed almost exclusively of District men, formerly Battalion A, B and C of the National Guard. They trained for many months at Camp Meigs, and were transferred to Camp Annapolis, Md., where they were recruited from the Southern States.

Discussions Arises

At the meeting yesterday Chairman Harper defined the duties and functions of each committee. Dissenting arguments arose on giving the demonstration a dual purpose of welcoming the 110th Field Artillery and honoring the District service men. Several members of the committee stood firmly for making the demonstration planned for February 22 primarily an occasion for President Wilson to show the tribute to the enlisted men of the District until April and May, when more troops will have returned, and also the possibility of inclement weather is obvious.

M. D. Rosenberg, vice chairman of the finance subcommittee of the Welcome Home Committee, said he believed that two celebrations should be planned. He was seconded by Grand Marshal Melvin C. Hazen.

Charles Darr, chairman for the Civic Organization, however, stated that the appointment of the committee had been the intention of the commissioners of the District and that any objections offered were a lack of faith in accepting their office.

Harper Favors Double Purpose.

Col. Harper said that he would rule out of order any motion presented by the members of the committee to have the President show the tribute to the enlisted men of the District alone. He said he felt that the stand had been clearly stated at the first executive meeting that the demonstration would be a joint affair.

"We will go in and do it and let the Lord take care of the weather," he declared.

He was supported in this argument and plans for the demonstration were continued.

Two designs for the medals, which a committee headed by Isaac Jacobson, has been appointed to show the District war heroes the appreciation of the citizens of Washington, were submitted by Mr. Gans. The one so far favored has on one side a figure of a soldier standing with a rifle, and on the other side a figure of a woman standing with a child.

Plans were made today for the burial of the "Emperor's" remains tomorrow morning, but it is not certain there will be few, if any, mourners. Mrs. Lebaudy, who is suffering severely from acute bronchitis will not attend. Interment will be in the Westbury Cemetery.

Heart Is Affected.

According to her physicians, Mrs. Lebaudy is expected to die in a few days. She has been suffering from acute bronchitis for several weeks. Her heart action is said to have been affected. It is understood to be Mrs. Lebaudy's expectation that she will have to stand trial.

A female witness, whose name was not revealed, is to give testimony here tomorrow and, according to Mrs. Lebaudy's attorney, her statements will be conclusively that Lebaudy was determined to go to his home on Saturday night to "clean up" his family.

OUR CITY

(Something is wrong in Washington. This is the seventh of a series of editorials dealing with unhappy conditions in Washington. In the series the editor will tell the facts as he sees them, without fear or favor. The hope that they will suggest a remedy is the sole object of their publication.)

Someone is guilty of the grossest negligence in connection with Washington's housing program. This negligence approaches the criminal. War workers lured here with rosy inducements and promises of comfortable accommodations, found unfulfilled promises to the detriment of the morale and efficiency of government workers and at the sacrifice of many lives and health.

The Washington Herald has already attacked the Union Station Plaza housing fizzle. It has pointed out the series of unaccountable delays which have characterized the construction of these buildings to the inconvenience of 2,000 women war workers.

Originally the plan, according to promises, was to have these houses ready for occupancy months ago. There was one delay after the other. Finally, to cap the climax of the apparent mismanagement of the Housing Corporation, Congress was asked about a month ago for the appropriation of an additional $400,000 to complete the then 90 per cent finished buildings.

These structures have finally been made habitable, but at a time when their demand is not one tenth of what it had been.

Next we discover a joker in the building of homes for navy yard employees. There is some debate as to whether these buildings, which should have been completed months ago to relieve the condition of the suffering navy yard employees, should be finished.

These buildings, without doubt, should be completed, in appreciation of the patriotic services rendered by navy yard workers and as a partial compensation for such services.

The plan has been, were the buildings completed, to sell them to employees at a reasonable cost.

If this is not done we will say that someone is guilty of the most blatant profiteering, and that someone is working hand in hand with that ring of criminal profiteers that have taken every advantage of congested conditions in Washington to raise rents, to charge exorbitant prices for real estate and make living conditions in this city as miserable as possible to fill their pocketbooks.

Is there someone who is afraid that if these buildings should be finished that his profits as a real estate dealer or as a legislator or official bribed by the real estate interests, will be affected and he will lose a couple of dollars?

Thus far the public has received very little consideration from Congress to alleviate the octopus grip of the profiteer. Can we expect similar consideration in the future or will some conscience-stricken official finally change his course before he is exposed to the public?

We repeat what we have said before, that the improper housing conditions of the thousands of war workers here, the certain neglect of someone responsible for the providing of proper accommodations, will always be remembered over the entire country by those who suffered as the one black mark on Washington's otherwise glorious war record.

BURY LEBAUDY; WIFE IS DYING

Confessed Slayer of Millionaire, Victim of Serious Heart Affliction.

Minneapolis, N. Y., Jan. 15.—The establishment of the exact degree of the eccentricity or insanity of Jacques Lebaudy, Emperor of the Sahara, who was killed by his wife last Saturday night when he went to his home, "The Lodge," at Westbury, to threaten her and her daughter, Jacqueline, is expected to be one of the interesting preliminaries of the legal disposition of the tragedy. Almost unanimous sentiment exists among the legal authorities that the man should be punished lightly, if at all, should it be found that Mrs. Lebaudy's mental peculiarities of Jacques Lebaudy crystallized itself today in a request from the medical school of Columbia University that permission be granted for an examination of the dead man's brain, which it is reported, was found to be of less than normal size during the autopsy.

Request Is Granted.

The request for the examination was made to District Attorney Weeks, and he expressed no objection.

Simultaneously, Dr. Russell Blaisdell, assistant superintendent of the State Hospital for the Insane at Kings Park, where Lebaudy had been confined for five days in August, 1915, declared today that he found no abnormalities in the dead man.

Plans were made today for the burial of the "Emperor's" remains tomorrow morning, but it is not certain there will be few, if any, mourners. Mrs. Lebaudy, who is suffering severely from acute bronchitis will not attend. Interment will be in the Westbury Cemetery.

Wilson and Conferees Discuss Admitting Huns to League

By JAY JEROME WILLIAMS, Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

Paris, Jan. 15.—Questions of procedure at the formal Peace Conference again today occupied the attention of President Wilson, Secretary Lansing at the premier and foreign minister of four other great powers, including Japan, in two sessions at the French foreign office.

The matter of representation of all the associated governments is expected to be decided finally soon.

The subject of Germany's eventual representation and the admission of Teutonic delegates is one that probably will be discussed at the conference, although it was under discussion today.

It is explained that Germany's interest in the Peace Conference is one of the most important of the "dotted-line" when the associated powers have completed their agreements regarding the former empire.

Descendants of Revolutionary Heroes Have Ladies' Night at Rauscher's.

Featured by addresses by President-General Lewis Amos Ames and William Tyler Page, who told how he conceived the idea of visiting the American Revolution for which he received a Congressional prize of $1,000, the meeting of the District Society of the Sons of the American Revolution at Rauscher's, concluded by a dance in which more than 200 couples joined, proved one of the most enjoyable social functions of the new year. It was ladies' night. The American's creed has become a part of the daily ritual of more than 2,000 school children in the United States. It is the belief in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people, whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign States; a perfect union, one and inseparable, established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity, by which the character of the sacrifices their lives and fortunes.

"I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its Constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies."
